THINGS WORTH SEEING

There is probably no other city in the country which offers such a large and varied number of outdoor amusements as Boston, all its parks and beaches being within very short distance by trolley, boat, rail or automobile. Wonderland, Paragon, Norumbega and Lexington Parks, all of which have their open air theatre with continuous vaudeville, operas, zoölogical gardens, restaurants, etc., etc., draw thousands of people daily.

The Summer Exhibition of the Copley Society at Copley Hall, Cla :n-don Street, is held especially to interest the large number of people f >m other parts who pass through Boston going to and from the New Engl: nd summer resorts and contains a finely selected showing of contemporary A. .er-ican paintings and sculpture. Most of the pictures, excepting the port: its, are for sale. Copley Hall is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that een this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston 9 A. M., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bath-nd other attractive features during afternoon. Have dinner and then a ty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. ing on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to line and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a south-rection is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, >n, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken h Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly >n through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and asse. ntasket.

The Bos.on Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost itectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and D. C. French. The mural paintings by Pavis de Chavaunes, Edwin A. Abbey and John S. Sargent, attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, which contains 900,000 volumes.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The old house of Donahoe & Co. (established in 1835) are now offering special advantages to those travelling to Europe. Winter rates now in force. Their office is at 657 Washington Street, Room 2.

Charles E. Lauriat Company has just issued a very attractive catalogue of summer book bargains, and any one interested can get a copy free by stepping in to their handsome new store, opposite Franklin Street, or dropping them a postal card. It is the first general catalogue issued from the new store.

Blanchard, King & Company are showing a very attractive line of feather weight underwear, pajamas and night shirts appropriate to the weather.

The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, display a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

A man wears his hat in a more conspicuous place than any other article of apparel. This fact is taken into consideration when Cook hats are made, and especial care is taken that they shall be absolutely correct in style. The address is 161 Tremont Street.

Miss M. F. Fisk, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

The R. H. White Company are showing an elegant line of automobile and travelling requisites. Outing hampers of leather and wicker, fitted with tea or luncheon service; travelling bags and suit cases, carry-alls, hat boxes, dressing cases and razor sets, writing cases and an extensive selection of practical novelties for motor or steamer travel.

A fascinating store to visit is that of Smith, Patterson & Co., on Summer Street. People in search of silver for wedding gifts or of jewels of any kind should certainly go there. The keynote of the place is exclusiveness.

At Macullar Parker Co.'s may be found boys' complete outfits for summer, English homespuns for Norfolk suits, ready to wear or made to measure.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

There is probably no other city in the country which offers such a large nd varied number of outdoor amusements as Boston, all its parks and eaches being within very short distance by trolley, boat, rail or automobile. Wonderland, Paragon, Norumbega and Lexington Parks, all of which have heir open air theatre with continuous vaudeville, operas, zoölogical gardens, estaurants, etc., etc., draw thousands of people daily.

The Summer Exhibition of the Copley Society at Copley Hall, Clarendon Street, is held especially to interest the large number of people from ther parts who pass through Boston going to and from the New England ummer resorts and contains a finely selected showing of contemporary American paintings and sculpture. Most of the pictures, excepting the portraits, re for sale. Copley Hall is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 A. M. to P. M.

Trolley information is freely given relative to routes, fares, schedules, tc., of all the street railways in New England, at the trolley information ureau established this summer by the New England Street Railway Club, t 306 Washington Street and 12 Pearl Street Boston. An invitation is extended trolley tourists to call, write or telephone, Main 2332. Time tables, booklets and trolley literature can be obtained at any time at both of these places.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that etween this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston bout 9 A. M., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathng and other attractive features during afternoon. Have dinner and then a wenty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. Starting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to Brookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southerly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, Taunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken hrough Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly direction through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and Cohasset to Nantasket.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through the quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, etc.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unqualled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, hrough the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial nd provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved.

The Summer Exhibition of the Copley Society at Copley Hall, Clarenon Street, is held especially to interest the large number of people from ther parts who pass through Boston going to and from the New England ummer resorts and contains a finely selected showing of contemporary American paintings and sculpture. Most of the pictures, excepting the portraits, re for sale. Copley Hall is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 A. M. to P. M.

Trolley information is freely given relative to routes, fares, schedules, tc., of all the street railways in New England, at the trolley information ureau established this summer by the New England Street Railway Club, t 306 Washington Street and 12 Pearl Street Boston. An invitation is exended trolley tourists to call, write or telephone, Main 2332. Time tables, ooklets and trolley literature can be obtained at any time at both of these laces.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that etween this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston bout 9 A. M., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathing and other attractive features during afternoon. Have dinner and then a wenty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. Starting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to Brookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southerly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, Taunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken hrough Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly irection through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and Cohasset to Nantasket.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through he quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, tc.

SHOPPING NEWS

E. T. Slattery Company, on Tremont Street, have in their window some beautiful embroidered gowns, stylish tailor-made suits, French neckwear and millinery. One cannot pass up Tremont Street without noticing this beautiful display.

The August furniture sale of the R. H. White Company affords a low price opportunity that thousands of New England householders have found it unwise to ignore. It is a carefully planned exposition and sale of the latest designs and sample pieces at specially made August prices.

Do not fail to look in at Charles E. Lauriat Company's store this week opposite the head of Franklin Street, and look over the lot of choice old books from London shown on their counters. It is the advance guard of the many shipments coming and to come that will be the result of Mr. Lauriat's trip to Europe this summer.

Chandler & Barber, jobbers and retailers of hardware, 122 to 126 Summer Street, are showing a line of Victory and Premier ball bearing lawn mowers which they recommend as being the easiest running and best cutting mowers made.

Blanchard, King & Co., at 250 Boylston Street, are offering their stock of embroidered linen parasols at greatly reduced prices for the balance of the season.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher and Hatter at 34 Boylston Street, is showing an elegant selection of vacation requisites, trousers, bathing suits, athletic shirts, caps, etc. Everything to make your vacation days pleasant.

If souvenirs are what you wish you will find the largest selection and lowest prices on souvenirs of all descriptions at Ye Old State House Souvenir Shop, 218 Washington Street, or at 268 Boylston Street, opposite subway entrance. Visitors always welcome.

Macullar Parker Company's August reduced price sale in Men's and Boys' Clothing and Furnishing Departments is now going on.

TRY IT

EVER GO IN BATHING without getting sunburned? If you did, you only went in for a cold plunge, but missed all the fun of dodging the billows, playing in the sand, etc.

It's all right to be sunburned and have a brown, healthy color — it's considered smart. But something has to be done to cool the burning and smarting so that you can move your face next day, and also so you can sleep.

KLEIN'S YLANG YLANG COLD CREAM

WILL DO THAT. It has a special property which makes it very cooling to an irritated skin and is therefore very popular with the outdoor girl. Keeps mosquitoes off too.

PRICE, Sample Jar 10 cents. - 4-oz. Jar 25 cents.

atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ALMOST ILLRE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and tho e who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than a little but tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take is along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unequalled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, through the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial and provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved.

The Summer Exhibition of the Copley Society at Copley Hall, Clarendon Street, is held especially to interest the large number of people from other parts who pass through Boston going to and from the New England summer resorts and contains a finely selected showing of contemporary American paintings and sculpture. Most of the pictures, excepting the portraits, are for sale. Copley Hall is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Trolley information is freely given relative to routes, fares, schedules, etc., of all the street railways in New England, at the trolley information bureau established this summer by the New England Street Railway Club, at 306 Washington Street and 12 Pearl Street Boston. An invitation is extended trolley tourists to call, write or telephone, Main 2332. Time tables, booklets and trolley literature can be obtained at any time at both of these places.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that between this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston about 9 A. M., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathing and other attractive features during afternoon. Have dinner and then a twenty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. Starting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to Brookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southerly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, Taunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken through Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly direction through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and Cohasset to Nantasket.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through the quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, etc.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Hall & Hancock Company, 418, 420 Washington Street are havin a grand clearance sale of their entire stock of men's hats, women's hats, furs umbrellas, etc., at sacrifice prices, in order to reduce stock and make roor for the fall and winter goods.

The Russian Importing Company at 355-357 Boylston Street cordiall invites visitors to inspect their interesting shop, where they display the i dustry of the Russian peasant, which is certainly unique. They are makin a great reduction in prices on all goods during this month.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., at 30-38 Summer Street, are giving a di count of twenty per cent on their entire stock of Oriental rugs. Their stoc is the largest in this city and comprises the following makes: Kermanshah Khorassans, Savalans, Indias, Khivas, Cashmeres, Gheordes, Moussou Ganges, Kazaks, Daghestans, Shirvans, Carabagh and Hamidan rugs.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very larg wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, thereb enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail trad only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and the prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

E. T. Slattery Company, on Tremont Street, have in their window son beautiful embroidered gowns, stylish tailor-made suits, French neckwear a millinery. One cannot pass up Tremont Street without noticing this beau ful display.

The August furniture sale of the R. H. White Company affords a l price opportunity that thousands of New England householders have fou it unwise to ignore. It is a carefully planned exposition and sale of t latest designs and sample pieces at specially made August prices.

Do not fail to look in at Charles E. Lauriat Company's store this we opposite the head of Franklin Street, and look over the lot of choice books from London shown on their counters. It is the advance guard of t many shipments coming and to come that will be the result of Mr. Lauria trip to Europe this summer.

Chandler & Barber, jobbers and retailers of hardware, 122 to 126 Su mer Street, are showing a line of Victory and Premier ball bearing la mowers which they recommend as being the easiest running and best cutt mowers made.

The pure fruit flavors used in the soda and college ices served at Kle Pharmacy, corner Tremont and Boylston streets, is drawing large crow daily, and the difference in quality from the ordinary kind is very noticeal

TRY IT

EVER GO IN BATHING without getting sunburned? If you did, you only went in for a cold plunge, but missed all the fun of dodging the billows, playing in the sand, etc.

It's all right to be sunburned and have a brown, healthy color — it's considered smart. But something has to be done to cool the burning and smarting so that you can move your face next day, and also so you can sleep.

KLEIN'S YLANG YLANG COLD CREAM

WILL DO THAT. It has a special property which makes it very cooling to an irritated skin and is therefore very popular with the outdoor girl. Keeps mosquitoes off too.

PRICE, Sample Jar 10 cents. - 4-oz. Jar 25 cents.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than a little but tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

There is probably no other city in the country which offers such a large d varied number of outdoor amusements as Boston, all its parks and aches being within very short distance by trolley, boat, rail or automobile. onderland, Paragon, Norumbega and Lexington Parks, all of which have eir open air theatre with continuous vaudeville, operas, zoölogical gardens, staurants, etc., etc., draw thousands of people daily.

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unqualled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, rough the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial id provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved.

The Summer Exhibition of the Copley Society at Copley Hall, Clarenon Street, is held especially to interest the large number of people from her parts who pass through Boston going to and from the New England mmer resorts and contains a finely selected showing of contemporary Amer'an paintings and sculpture. Most of the pictures, excepting the portraits, re for sale. Copley Hall is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 A. M. to P. M.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that etween this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston bout 9 A. M., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathg and other attractive features during afternoon. Have dinner and then a wenty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. tarting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to rookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southrly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, 'aunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken hrough Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly irection through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and 'ohasset to Nantasket.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible ray, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through he quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End ill be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. . Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, tc.

SHOPPING NEWS

Visitors to Boston, especially if they are booklovers, should not go a without seeing Charles E. Lauriat Company's new book store in the W ington Building, opposite the head of Franklin Street. In itself well w seeing, it is just now even more attractive than usual, on account of immense stock of fine old books from abroad that is pouring in as a re of Mr. Lauriat's European trip.

A great reduction in the prices of men's high grade pajamas, underw negligee shirts, etc., is being made at Josiah T. Dyer's on Boylston Stree

Chandler & Barber, jobbers and retailers of hardware, 122 to 126 S mer Street, are showing a line of Victory and Premier ball bearing l mowers which they recommend as being the easiest running and best cut mowers made.

The pure fruit flavors used in the soda and college ices served at Kle Pharmacy, corner Tremont and Boylston streets, is drawing large cro daily, and the difference in quality from the ordinary kind is very notice

The August furniture sale of the R. H. White Company affords a price opportunity that thousands of New England householders have fo it unwise to ignore. It is a carefully planned exposition and sale of latest designs and sample pieces at specially made August prices.

The Hall & Hancock Company, 418, 420 Washington Street are ha a grand clearance sale of their entire stock of men's hats, women's hats, umbrellas, etc., at sacrifice prices, in order to reduce stock and make r for the fall and winter goods.

The Russian Importing Company at 355-357 Boylston Street cord invites visitors to inspect their interesting shop, where they display th dustry of the Russian peasant, which is certainly unique. They are ma a great reduction in prices on all goods during this month.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., at 3938 Summer Street, are giving a count of twenty per cent on their entire stock of Oriental rugs. Their s is the largest in this city and comprises the following makes: Kermansh Khorassans, Savalans, Indias, Khivas, Cashmeres, Gheordes, Mouss
Ganges, Kazaks, Daghestans, Shirvans, Carabagh and Hamidan rugs.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very l wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, the enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

TRY IT

EVER GO IN BATHING without getting sunburned? If you did, you only went in for a cold plunge, but missed all the fun of dodging the billows, playing in the sand, etc.

It's all right to be sunburned and have a brown, healthy color — it's considered smart. But something has to be done to cool the burning and smarting so that you can move your face next day, and also so you can sleep.

KLEIN'S YLANG YLANG COLD CREAM

WILL DO THAT. It has a special property which makes it very cooling to an irritated skin and is therefore very popular with the outdoor girl. Keeps mosquitoes off too.

PRICE, Sample Jar 10 cents. - 4-oz. Jar 25 cents.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

There is probably no other city in the country which offers such a large d varied number of outdoor amusements as Boston, all its parks and aches being within very short distance by trolley, boat, rail or automobile. onderland, Paragon, Norumbega and Lexington Parks, all of which have eir open air theatre with continuous vaudeville, operas, zoölogical gardens, staurants, etc., etc., draw thousands of people daily.

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unualled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, rough the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial id provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved.

The Summer Exhibition of the Copley Society at Copley Hall, Clarenon Street, is held especially to interest the large number of people from her parts who pass through Boston going to and from the New England mmer resorts and contains a finely selected showing of contemporary Amerian paintings and sculpture. Most of the pictures, excepting the portraits, e for sale. Copley Hall is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 A. M. to P. M.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that etween this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston out 9 A. M., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathg and other attractive features during afternoon. Have dinner and then a venty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. tarting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to rookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, aunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken rough Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly rection through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and ohasset to Nantasket.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible ay, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through e quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End ill be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. . Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, c.

SHOPPING NEWS

Visitors to Boston, especially if they are booklovers, should not go aw without seeing Charles E. Lauriat Company's new book store in the Wa ington Building, opposite the head of Franklin Street. In itself well wo seeing, it is just now even more attractive than usual, on account of immense stock of fine old books from abroad that is pouring in as a res of Mr. Lauriat's European trip.

A great reduction in the prices of men's high grade pajamas, underwe negligee shirts, etc., is being made at Josiah T. Dyer's on Boylston Street.

Chandler & Barber, jobbers and retailers of hardware, 122 to 126 Su mer Street, are showing a line of Victory and Premier ball bearing la mowers which they recommend as being the easiest running and best cutt mowers made.

Thos. Cook & Son, 332 Washington Street, near the Old South Chur is a convenient place to get your letter of credit or circular notes cashed also to obtain information as to ocean passages and the best place to sp the winter.

The August furniture sale of the R. H. White Company affords a price opportunity that thousands of New England householders have fo it unwise to ignore. It is a carefully planned exposition and sale of latest designs and sample pieces at specially made August prices.

The Hall & Hancock Company, 418, 420 Washington Street are hav a grand clearance sale of their entire stock of men's hats, women's hats, f umbrellas, etc., at sacrifice prices, in order to reduce stock and make r for the fall and winter goods.

A. N. Cook & Co. are showing the newest and best shapes in m hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, b top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., at 30-38 Summer Street, are giving a count of twenty per cent on their entire stock of Oriental rugs. Their s is the largest in this city and comprises the following makes: Kermansh Khorassans, Savalans, Indias, Khivas, Cashmeres, Gheordes, Mouss Ganges, Kazaks, Daghestans, Shirvans, Carabagh and Hamidan rugs.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very l wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, the enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail t only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

TRY IT

EVER GO IN BATHING without getting sunburned? If you did, you only went in for a cold plunge, but missed all the fun of dodging the billows, playing in the sand, etc.

It's all right to be sunburned and have a brown, healthy color — it's considered smart. But something has to be done to cool the burning and smarting so that you can move your face next day, and also so you can sleep.

KLEIN'S YLANG YLANG COLD CREAM

WILL DO THAT. It has a special property which makes it very cooling to an irritated skin and is therefore very popular with the outdoor girl. Keeps mosquitoes off too.

PRICE, Sample Jar 10 cents. - 4-oz. Jar 25 cents.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

There is only one important change of bill at the theatres this week, Arnold Daly's Company comes to the Tremont Theatre Monday in repertoire. This is the arrangement of plays in which Mr. Daly is to act: for the week of September 10, Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man"; for the week of September 17 Mr. Daly repeats Shaw's capital farce, "You Never Can Tell," in which he acted here last autumn. During the week of September 24 he will act the poet in Shaw's "Candida," the young Napoleon in the same playwright's "The Man of Destiny," and the husband in that very silly little, "How He Lied to Her Husband." In the same week, according to present plans, Mr. Daly will also appear for the first time in four short plays that together make an evening's bill. Dustin Farnum in Owen Wister's celebrated romance, "The Virginian," remains at the Hollis. Louis Mann and Clara Lipman have scored a big hit in the four-act comedy, "Julie Bonbon," at the Majestic. Mr. Wright Lorimer, in "The Shepherd King," remains at the Colonial Theatre. "The Lion and the Mouse" at the Park is one of the best dramas of years. The New England rural nautical play, "Cape Cod Folks," is at the Boston Theatre. "A One-Horse Town" is the title of the play which comes to the Globe Monday. John Craig Stock Company offers "The Last Word" as the attraction at the Bijou, and "The Girl with the Green Eyes" at the Castle Square. The Russell Brothers is the Grand Opera House offering. Vaudeville at Keith's, Orpheum and the Howard. Burlesque at the Lyceum, Palace and Columbia.

The Summer Exhibition of the Copley Society at Copley Hall, Clarendon Street, is held especially to interest the large number of people from other parts who pass through Boston going to and from the New England summer resorts and contains a finely selected showing of contemporary American paintings and sculpture. Most of the pictures, excepting the portraits, are for sale. Copley Hall is open daily, except Sundays, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through the quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, etc.

SHOPPING NEWS

Charles E. Lauriat Co. have just issued the September number of their very readable monthly, "Book Notes," and those interested in book lore can get a copy free by stepping into their handsome new store in the Washington Building, opposite the head of Franklin Street. The counters look very attractive this week, with a fine lot of new and old English books that have just passed through the Boston custom house.

A great reduction in the prices of men's high grade pajamas, underwear, negligee shirts, etc., is being made at Josiah T. Dyer's on Boylston Street.

Chandler & Barber, jobbers and retailers of hardware, 122 to 126 Summer Street, are showing a line of Victory and Premier ball bearing lawn mowers which they recommend as being the easiest running and best cutting mowers made.

Thos. Cook & Son, 332 Washington Street, near the Old South Church, is a convenient place to get your letter of credit or circular notes cashed and also to obtain information as to ocean passages and the best place to spend the winter.

The August furniture sale of the R. H. White Company affords a low price opportunity that thousands of New England householders have found it unwise to ignore. It is a carefully planned exposition and sale of the latest designs and sample pieces at specially made August prices.

The Hall & Hancock Company, 418, 420 Washington Street are having a grand clearance sale of their entire stock of men's hats, women's hats, furs, umbrellas, etc., at sacrifice prices, in order to reduce stock and make room for the fall and winter goods.

A. N. Cook & Co. are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., at 30-38 Summer Street, are giving a discount of twenty per cent on their entire stock of Oriental rugs. Their stock is the largest in this city and comprises the following makes: Kermanshahs, Khorassans, Savalans, Indias, Khivas, Cashmeres, Gheordes, Moussouls, Ganges, Kazaks, Daghestans, Shirvans, Carabagh and Hamidan rugs.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very large wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, thereby enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail trade only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and their prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

TRY IT

EVER GO IN BATHING without getting sunburned? If you did, you only went in for a cold plunge, but missed all the fun of dodging the billows, playing in the sand, etc.

It's all right to be sunburned and have a brown, healthy color — it's considered smart. But something has to be done to cool the burning and smarting so that you can move your face next day, and also so you can sleep.

KLEIN'S YLANG YLANG COLD CREAM

WILL DO THAT. It has a special property which makes it very cooling to an irritated skin and is therefore very popular with the outdoor girl. Keeps mosquitoes off too.

PRICE, Sample Jar 10 cents. - 4-oz. Jar 25 cents.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Peter F. Dailey and a carefully selected company come to the Majestic this week, presenting Mr. Dailey's greatest success, "The Press Agent." Frank Daniels returns with "Sergeant Brue" in which he scored an enormous success last season, and will be at the Hollis St. Theatre. Thomas Jefferson's annual engagement at the Boston Theatre commences this week presenting "Rip Van Winkle." Arnold Daly and his company of players remain at the Tremont, presenting Bernard Shaw's well-known farce, "You Never Can Tell." Mr. Wright Lorimer, in "The Shepherd King," remains at the Colonial. Mr. Lorimer will present "The Wild Duck" at a special matinee on Thursday of this week. "The Lion and the Mouse" continues its run at the Park. Nat M. Wills in "A Lucky Dog" comes to the Globe this week. The John Craig Stock Company will present "Lost: Twenty-Four Hours," at the Bijou. "The Gambler from the West" all this week at the Grand Opera House, and "By Right of Sword" at the Castle Square Theatre. Continuous vaudeville at Keith's, the Howard and Orpheum. High class burlesque and variety at the Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

The Boston Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost architectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects were McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and D. C. French. The mural paintings by Puvis de Chavaunes, Edwin A. Abbey and John S. Sargent attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, which contains 900,000 volumes.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through the quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, etc.

SHOPPING NEWS

Any one in need of toilet articles of any kind should not fail to see the complete line just received at the Klein Pharmacy, corner Tremont and Boylston streets. They are also showing an entirely new packing in their celebrated Ylang Ylang Cold Cream, which will recommend itself to professional people.

Thos. Cook & Son, 332 Washington Street, near the Old South Church, is a convenient place to get your letter of credit or circular notes cashed and also to obtain information as to ocean passages and the best place to spend the winter.

Blanchard, King & Co. announce their opening in fall neckwear, and are showing a large variety of effects in the newest shades and patterns.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are showing an elegant line of fall overcoats in their retail clothing department ranging in price from $15.00 to $35.00.

A. N. Cook & Co. are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. are offering a new line of choice antique Oriental rugs. The patrons of this house are cordially invited to pass judgment of their selection.

H. Genaske, at 214 Boylston Street, is showing an attractive line of fine London Worsteds, Tweeds and Linens for Ladies' Street and Traveling Suits. Visitors to the city may be assured of courteous treatment. Materials and models cheerfully exhibited.

Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

Mr. Charles E. Lauriat, of Charles E. Lauriat Company, has just returned from an all summer's trip abroad and the choice new and old books that he has secured for the company's new store, opposite the head of Franklin Street, have already commenced to come in. The next four weeks will be busy ones and visitors will find something worth looking at every time they call.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

TRY IT

EVER GO IN BATHING without getting sunburned? If you did, you only went in for a cold plunge, but missed all the fun of dodging the billows, playing in the sand, etc.

It's all right to be sunburned and have a brown, healthy color — it's considered smart. But somethi g has to be done to cool the burning and smarting so that you can move your face next day, and also so you can sleep.

KLEIN'S YLANG YLANG COLD CREAM

WILL DO THAT. It has a special property which makes it very cooling to an irritated skin and is therefore very popular with the outdoor girl. Keeps mosquitoes off too.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Charles Klein's new play, "The Daughters of Men," appears at the Colonial this week and the cast includes Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon. At the Tremont Arnold Daly holds forth a third and final week of his successful engagement, presenting a varied repertoire as follows: Monday and Friday evenings, the three small plays, "The Monkey's Paw," "The Flag Station," and "How He Lied to Her Husband;" Tuesday evening and Saturday matinee, by special request, "Candida;" Wednesday matinee and Saturday evening, "Arms and the Man;" Wednesday evening, three more short plays, "Grandfather Coquesne," "The Lemonade Boy," and "The Man of Destiny;" and Thursday evening, "You Never Can Tell." Eugenie Blair and her company come to the Globe in Clyde Fitch's strong play, "The Woman in the Case." Frank Daniels continues at the Hollis with "Sergeant Brue," Thomas Jefferson at the Boston in "Rip Van Winkle," and Peter F. Dailey at the Majestic in "The Press Agent." "The Lion and the Mouse" remains at the Park. The Castle Square Stock Company presents Sardou's "Gismonda," and the John Craig Company at the Bijou offers "Why Smith Left Home." "Secrets of the Police" occupies the stage of the Grand Opera House during the entire week. Charles Miller, known to Bostonians for his excellent work at the head of one of the local stock companies, begins an engagement at Keith's, appearing in a Raffles' act entitled "The Cat's Paw." There is continuous vaudeville at the Orpheum and the Howard. High class burlesque and variety may be seen at the Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

The Boston Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost architectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects were McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and D. C. French. The mural paintings by Puvis de Chavaunes, Edwin A. Abbey and John S. Sargent attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, which contains 900,000 volumes.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through the quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End, will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, etc.

SHOPPING NEWS

The motorist—owner or guest, man or woman—will find wide choice in appropriate head-wear at the Tremont Street store of A. N. Cook & Co., No. 161. The comfort that is essential to motor enjoyment is here combined with an equal degree of the style that is so desirable. It is hard to consider the display of autumn models in women's hats shown by this firm as things to be sold. Rather do they suggest an art collection in which a connoisseur of beauty in design may revel. Visitors are always welcomed at the Tremont Street store.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. are offering a new line of choice antique Oriental rugs. The patrons of this house are cordially invited to pass judgment of their selection.

H. Genaske, at 214 Boylston Street, is showing an attractive line of fine London Worsteds, Tweeds and Linens for Ladies' Street and Traveling Suits. Visitors to the city may be assured of courteous treatment. Materials and models cheerfully exhibited.

Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

Mr. Charles E. Lauriat, of Charles E. Lauriat Company, has just returned from an all summer's trip abroad and the choice new and old books that he has secured for the company's new store, opposite the head of Franklin Street, have already commenced to come in. The next four weeks will be busy ones and visitors will find something worth looking at every time they call.

If souvenirs are what you wish you will find the largest selection and lowest prices on souvenirs of all descriptions at Ye Old State House Souvenir Shop, 218 Washington Street, or at 268 Boylston Street, opposite subway entrance. Visitors always welcome.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are showing an elegant line of fall overcoats in their retail clothing department ranging in price from $15.00 to $35.00.

When in need of any kind of a book, you will be sure to find it at the Old Corner Bookstore, 27–29 Bromfield Street. They have many books not to be found elsewhere.

The Boston Motor Co. at 43 Columbus Ave. can furnish any size or style car with driver at very short notice. Just telephone Tremont 2.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

TRY IT

EVER GO IN BATHING without getting sunburned? If you did, you only went in for a cold plunge, but missed all the fun of dodging the billows, playing in the sand, etc.

It's all right to be sunburned and have a brown, healthy color — it's considered smart. But something has to be done to cool the burning and smarting so that you can move your face next day, and also so you can sleep.

KLEIN'S YLANG YLANG COLD CREAM

WILL DO THAT. It has a special property which makes it very cooling to an irritated skin and is therefore very popular with the outdoor girl. Keeps mosquitoes off too.

PRICE, Sample Jar 10 cents. - 4-oz. Jar 25 cents.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the Majestic this week David Warfield opens a four weeks' engagement with "The Music Master," a play which has made him one of the most ɔtable actors of the present day. Sam Bernard is at the Hollis Street in e musical and spectacular play entitled "The Rich Mr. Hoggenheimer." t the Tremont there comes the operetta, "The Student King," with music ' De Koven, while at the Boston "The Old Homestead" returns once more. he Globe presents The Four Mortons in "Breaking into Society," which is musical farce, and the Castle Square Stock Company plays "The Other irl." "What Happened to Jones" claims the effort of the John Craig tock Company at the Bijou, and at the Grand Opera House Lottie Williams ɔpears in "My Tomboy Girl." "The Daughters of Men" remains at the olonial, as does "The Lion and the Mouse" at the Park. Keith's, the rpheum and the Howard have excellent vaudeville attractions. The yceum, Columbia and the Palace furnish high class burlesque.

The Boston Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost rchitectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects ere McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and). C. French. The mural paintings by Puvis de Chavaunes, Edwin A. Abbey nd John S. Sargent attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, hich contains 900,000 volumes.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible ay, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through ie quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End, ill be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. .. SHOPPING NEWS

The motorist -owner or guest, man or woman—will find wide choice in appropriate head-wear at the Tremont Street store of A. N. Cook & Co., No 161. The comfort that is essential to motor enjoyment is here combined with an equal degree of the style that is so desirable. It is hard to consider the display of autumn models in women's hats shown by this firm as things to be sold. Rather do they suggest an art collection in which a connoisseur of beauty in design may revel. Visitors are always welcomed at the Tremont Street store.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. are offering a new line of choice antique Oriental rugs. The patrons of this house are cordially invited to pass judgment of their selection.

H. Genaske, at 214 Boylston Street, is showing an attractive line of fine London Worsteds, Tweeds and Linens for Ladies' Street and Traveling Suits. Visitors to the city may be assured of courteous treatment. Materials and models cheerfully exhibited.

Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are showing an elegant line of fall overcoats in their retail clothing department ranging in price from $15.00 to $35.00.

The Boston Motor Co. at 43 Columbus Ave. can furnish any size or style car with driver at very short notice. Just telephone Tremont 2.

Blanchard, King & Company, 250 Boylston Street, announce the opening of their ladies' custom department which has become as widely and favorably known as their original line of men's furnishings. They make coats and costumes of a high order.

Charles E. Lauriat Company are getting their "book parlor" into such form that it is a most fascinating corner to get into for a spare half hour. In their handsome new store, opposite the head of Franklin Street, this is made even more a feature than it was when opposite the Old South Church. It is something in the nature of a revelation to most visitors.

The Pierce Tourist Company of No. 327 Old South Building announce their Annual Foliage Tour of three days to the White Mountains, for Saturday, October 6, and it will be the last tour of the season under escort to that point. The price of this tour is only $10.50, which covers the cost of transportation for the round trip, hotel accommodations and a grand coaching trip of thirty-four miles to the Flume, "Old Man of the Mountains," etc. Further particulars will be cheerfully given on application to them.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The changes of bill at the chief theatres are the fewest this week of any during the month of October. Fritzi Scheff returns in "Mlle. Modiste," to the Colonial and "The Daughters of Men" is transferred to the Park for four special matinees of Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Thomas E. Shea, a favorite in this city, presents his series of popular plays at the Globe as follows: Monday afternoon, "Cardinal Richelieu"; Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"; Tuesday night, "The Bells"; Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and Saturday night, "Napoleon the Great"; and Thursday night, his newest character, "Othello." At the Grand Opera House there is the sporting comedy drama, "Ruled off the Turf," at the Bijou the John Craig Stock Company in "Caste," and at the Castle Square "The Manxman." Sam Bernard remains at the Hollis in "The Rich Mr. Hoggenheimer," as does David Warfield at the Majestic in "The Music Master." "The Lion and the Mouse" also continues at the Park, "The Student King" at the Tremont, and "The Old Homestead" at the Boston. Vaudeville programs of merit are presented at Keith's, the Orpheum and the Howard. Burlesque of a high-class order may be witnessed at the Lyceum, Columbia and the Palace.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through the quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End, will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. See opposite page for times, etc.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Collver Tours Company's remodelled office at 368 Boylston Street is one of the "smartest" tourist offices anywhere. The intention is to have the environment reflect the high plane on which this Company's tours are planned. Their Japan, Round the World and South America tours are decidedly "Away-from-the-Usual."

A fascinating store to visit is that of Smith, Patterson & Co., on Summer Street. People in search of silver for wedding gifts or of jewels of any kind should certainly go there. The keynote of the place is exclusiveness.

The latest patterns in shirts, neckwear and hosiery are ready for the fall trade at J. T. Dyer's, 34 Boylston Street.

The E. T. Slattery Company at 154 Tremont Street, with greatly enlarged facilities, are exhibiting their complete autumn collections in their ready-to-wear novelties, millinery and custom departments.

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

The toilet parlors of Dr. Rudolph Mertin at 564 Washington Street, opposite the Adams House, are the largest in New England, employing thirty-five expert operators. Dr. Mertin has recently opened a large room exclusively for gentlemen's manicure and chiropody where the patrons may smoke and make themselves generally comfortable. The hair dressing department makes a specialty of marcel waving and carries a first-class line of hair goods and toilet articles. Dr. Mertin's reputation as a chiropodist is well known.

Blanchard, King & Company, 250 Boylston Street, announce the opening of their ladies' custom department which has become as widely and favorably known as their original line of men's furnishings. They make coats and costumes of a high order.

Charles E. Lauriat Company are getting their "book parlor" into such form that it is a most fascinating corner to get into for a spare half hour. In their handsome new store, opposite the head of Franklin Street, this is made even more a feature than it was when opposite the Old South Church. It is something in the nature of a revelation to most visitors.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

Huyler's BRANCH STORE, 414 Boylston Street, is three minutes' walk from the Hotel Vendome, Victoria, Westminster, Lenox, Copley Square, Nottingham, Oxford, Brunswick and Thorndike.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

This is another week of few changes at the leading theatres of the city The Boston presents "The Social Whirl," a musical show that won favor last spring at another theatre. Billy B. Van comes to the Globe in "Patsy in Politics," and at the Grand Opera House "A Millionaire's Revenge," is given with its many excitable incidents, Hoyt's "A Temperance Town" is revived by the Castle Square Stock Company, while at the Bijou the John Craig Stock Company offers "Peaceful Valley." Keith's, the Orpheum and the Howard have a lot of good vaudeville attractions, These plays remain over: Fritzi Scheff in "Mlle. Modiste," at the Colonial; Sam Bernard in "The Rich Mr. Hoggenheimer," at the Hollis; David Warfield in "The Music Master," at the Majestic; "The Student King," at the Tremont, and "The Lion and the Mouse" at the Park. The Lyceum, Palace and Columbia present high-grade burlesque.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Strangers and tourists who wish to see historic Boston the best possible way, visiting all places of historic interest in and around the city, through the quaint streets and lanes to the ancient buildings of the old North End, will be able to see and learn the most in the shortest time by going with F. A. Waterman, the recognized Boston Guide. Parties leave Park St. Church at 9.30 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. each day.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

Many an old English private library — some of them representing the gatherings of more than one generation — has contributed its quota to the collection of fine old books that Charles E. Lauriat Company are commencing to open up and show on the counters of their handsome new store opposite the head of Franklin Street. To the lover of books it is a delight simply to handle some of these specimens of the work of men who made books in an age when it was not necessary to sacrifice anything and everything to make them in a hurry.

L. P. Hollander & Co. announce the opening of a new department for the sale of ribbons, in which they are carrying a complete stock of plaids, Roman stripes, Dresden effects, moires, peau de cygnes and faille ribbons; also many novelties in narrow ribbons for dress trimmings. They also make up bows and hair ornaments without extra charge.

The Collver Tours Company's remodelled office at 368 Boylston Street is one of the "smartest" tourist offices anywhere. The intention is to have the environment reflect the high plane on which this Company's tours are planned. Their Japan, Round the World and South America tours are decidedly "Away-from-the-Usual."

A fascinating store to visit is that of Smith, Patterson & Co., on Summer Street. People in search of silver for wedding gifts or of jewels of any kind should certainly go there. The keynote of the place is exclusiveness.

The latest patterns in shirts, neckwear and hosiery are ready for the fall trade at J. T. Dyer's, 34 Boylston Street.

The E. T. Slattery Company at 154 Tremont Street, with greatly enlarged facilities, are exhibiting their complete autumn collections in their ready-to-wear novelties, millinery and custom departments.

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

When in need of any kind of a book, you will be sure to find it at the Old Corner Bookstore, 27–29 Bromfield Street. They have many books not to be found elsewhere.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. are offering a new line of choice antique Oriental rugs. The patrons of this house are cordially invited to pass judgment of their selection.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

For the first time in Boston Maud Adams plays "Peter Pan" this week at the Hollis and her great success of the character at New York is repeated here. Rollicking Marie Cahill comes to the Colonial in "Marrying Mary," a musical show. "Under Southern Skies" returns to the Globe, and the Grand Opera House offers "$10,000 Reward." That screaming farce entitled "Incog" claims the effort of the John Craig Stock Company at the Bijou, while the Castle Square Company revives Sardou's play "Theodora." Plays remaining over are: David Warfield in "The Music Master," at the Majestic, with a special matinee Thursday, "The Student King" at the Tremont, "The Lion and the Mouse" at the Park, and "The Social Whirl" at the Boston. Excellent vaudeville features are offered at Keith's, the Orpheum and the Howard. Burlesque of a high order is presented at the Columbia, Lyceum and the Palace.

Mr. Savage's production of Puccini's, "Mme. Butterfly," the grand opera that has been such a success abroad, will probably be the most talked of opera of the year in America It will be sung in English and with a triple cast. The three "Butterflies" will be Adelaide Norwood, Elza Szamosy and Eloise Amalie Janssen. The cast will also include Francis Maclennan, Joseph Sheehan, Harriet Behnee, Estelle Bloomfield, Ray Vivien, Thomas David Richards and Winfred Goff. Walter Rothwel and Alfred Feith will be the conductors, with an orchestra of sixty-five musicians. George Marion will have entire charge of the stage production of "Butterfly."

Old State House — Washington Street, head of State Street. Here the first Town House was built, 1657, in the earliest market-place of Boston. Burned in 1711, it was rebuilt in 1712. Again burned in 1747, the present structure was built in 1748, the walls of the old Town House being utilized. Here met colonial courts and legislatures, the town and city governments, and the General Court of the Commonwealth. In front of it occurred the burning of stamp clearances and the Boston massacre. Here were the whipping-posts and stocks. Building restored in 1882. Bostonian Society collection of relics. 9.30 to 5; Saturdays, 9.30 to 12.

Old Corner Book Store — Washington and School Streets. Built 1712. as a drug shop by Thomas Crease on site of Ann Hutchinson's dwelling. A bookstore, 1828–1903, and the gathering place of Boston writers. Now Gunaris' candy shop. The Old Corner Book Store is now located at 27–29 Bromfield Street.

SHOPPING NEWS

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

When in need of any kind of a book, you will be sure to find it at the Old Corner Bookstore, 27–29 Bromfield Street. They have many books not to be found elsewhere.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. are offering a new line of choice antique Oriental rugs. The patrons of this house are cordially invited to pass judgment of their selection.

In winter automobiling a fur coat is a necessity. A. N. Cook & Co., Tremont Street, have made a study of securing the most suitable and durable skins for their men's and women's automobile coats.

Many an old English private library — some of them representing the gatherings of more than one generation — has contributed its quota to the collection of fine old books that Charles E. Lauriat Company are commencing to open up and show on the counters of their handsome new store opposite the head of Franklin Street. To the lover of books it is a delight simply to handle some of these specimens of the work of men who made books in an age when it was not necessary to sacrifice anything and everything to make them in a hurry.

L. P. Hollander & Co. announce the opening of a new department for the sale of ribbons, in which they are carrying a complete stock of plaids, Roman stripes, Dresden effects, moires, peau de cygnes and faille ribbons; also many novelties in narrow ribbons for dress trimmings. They also make up bows and hair ornaments without extra charge.

The toilet parlors of Dr. Rudolph Mertin at 564 Washington Street, opposite the Adams House, are the largest in New England, employing thirty-five expert operators. Dr. Mertin has recently opened a large room exclusively for gentlemen's manicure and chiropody where the patrons may smoke and make themselves generally comfortable. The hair dressing department makes a specialty of marcel waving and carries a first-class line of hair goods and toilet articles. Dr. Mertin's reputation as a chiropodist is well known.

Blanchard, King & Company, 250 Boylston Street, announce the opening of their ladies' custom department which has become as widely and favorably known as their original line of men's furnishings. They make coats and costumes of a high order.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Changes in some of the leading theatres take place this week for the first time in a long period. The initial engagement in Boston of Henry W. Savage's "Madam Butterfly," begins at the Tremont Theatre. This is Puccini's newest opera and the Savage company sings it in English. At the Park, Francis Wilson presents a new farce entitled "The Mountain Climber," and to the Majestic comes "My Lady's Maid," an Americanized version of the London musical play, "Lady Madcap." Andrew Mack, popular for his Irish characters, revives Boucicault's "Arrah-na-Pogue," at the Boston Theatre. The John Craig Stock Company plays "A Trip to Chinatown," at the Bijou, and the Castle Square Stock Company, "Julius Caesar." "Painting the Town," is the attraction at the Globe and the Grand Opera House offers "The Queen of the Highbinders." Maude Adams remains at the Hollis in "Peter Pan," and Marie Cahill continues at the Colonial in "Marrying Mary." Keith's, the Orpheum and the Howard present excellent vaudeville attractions. Burlesque of a pleasing character is offered at the Columbia, the Palace and the Lyceum.

Mr. Savage's production at the Tremont Theatre of Puccini's, "Mme. Butterfly," the grand opera that has been such a success abroad, will probably be the most talked of opera of the year in America It will be sung in English and with a triplecast. The three "Butterflies" will be Elza Szamosy, Amalie Janssen and Rena Vivienne. The cast will also include Francis Maclennan, Joseph Sheehan, Harriet Behnee, Estelle Bloomfield, Ray Vivien, Thomas David Richards and Winfred Goff. Walter Rothwel and Alfred Feith will be the conductors, with an orchestra of sixty-five musicians. George Marion will have entire charge of the stage production of "Butterfly."

Old State House — Washington Street, head of State Street. Here the first Town House was built, 1657, in the earliest market-place of Boston. Burned in 1711, it was rebuilt in 1712. Again burned in 1747, the present structure was built in 1748, the walls of the old Town House being utilized. Here met colonial courts and legislatures, the town and city governments, and the General Court of the Commonwealth. In front of it occurred the burning of stamp clearances and the Boston massacre. Here were the whipping-posts and stocks. Building restored in 1882. Bostonian Society collection of relics. 9.30 to 5; Saturdays, 9.30 to 12.

Old Corner Book Store — Washington and School Streets. Built 1712. as a drug shop by Thomas Crease on site of Ann Hutchinson's dwelling. A bookstore, 1828–1903, and the gathering place of Boston writers. Now Gunaris' candy shop. The Old Corner Book Store is now located at 27–29 Bromfield Street.

SHOPPING NEWS

The certainty of obtaining fur garments that are not merely rich and beautiful in appearance but also durable is one of the pleasures you derive from shopping at A. N. Cook & Co.'s Tremont Street store.

The Collver Tours Company's remodelled office at 368 Boylston Street is one of the "smartest" tourist offices anywhere. The intention is to have the environment reflect the high plane on which this Company's tours are planned. Their Japan, Round the World and South America tours are decidedly "Away-from-the Usual."

An unusually beautiful display of plaited bosom shirts at Dyer's on Boylston Street is causing very favorable comment. The patterns and general idea are exclusively their own.

There is considerable told about the scarcity of ladies' long gloves — but it certainly can't apply to Miss Fisk's store at 144 Tremont Street — as she shows an abundnnce of all the most fashionable colors, in all styles and lengths.

Be sure and step in to Charles E. Lauriat Company's bookstore, opposite the head of Franklin Street and ask for a copy of their catalogue of new English books at reduced prices, just issued. It is free and well worth going in after.

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., at 3038 Summer Street, have just received a large importation of Oriental rugs. Their stock is the largest in this city and comprises the following makes: Kermanshahs, Khorassans, Savalans, Indias, Khivas, Cashmeres, Gheordes, Moussouls, Ganges, Kazaks, Daghestans, Shirvans, Carabagh and Hamidan rugs.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very large wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, thereby enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail trade only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and their prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

E. S. Willard begins a fortnight's engagement this week at the Colonial playing "Colonel Newcome," throughout the opening week. "Mam'selle Sallie," a new musical play for the first time in this city comes to the Boston, and at the Castle Square, "Trilby" is the bill. The Rays appear in "Down the Pike" at the Globe, while "When the World Sleeps" shows at the Grand Opera House. Attractions remaining over are "Madam Butterfly," at the Tremont; Maude Adams in "Peter Pan," at the Hollis; "My Lady's Maid," at the Majestic; Francis Wilson in "The Mountain Climber," at the Park, and "A Trip to Chinatown," at the Bijou. Keith's, the Orpheum and the Howard offer fine vaudeville. Pleasing burlesque is the entertainment at the Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

A prominent feature of this week's bill at the Orpheum will consist of the illustrations of Thaumaturgy by the Fays, who created such a sensation here last season at another theatre. The Fays are a whole show in themselves, but are only one of the many big acts of vaudeville at the Orpheum.

Faneuil Hall — Merchants' Row and Faneuil Hall Square. "Cradle of Liberty." Built 1742, by Peter Faneuil and given to Boston as a town hall. Burned 1761, and rebuilt. Focus of Revolutionary movement in Boston and the colonies. Used by British officers as a playhouse during siege of Boston. Enlarged 1805, from Charles Bulfinch's plans. Market below, public hall above, and armory of the Ancients over all. Hall has copies of many historical paintings and portraits, originals having been removed to Museum of Fine Arts for greater safety. Armory has collection of relics. Open week days, 9 to 5.

Old State House — Washington Street, head of State Street. Here the first Town House was built, 1657, in the earliest market-place of Boston. Burned in 1711, it was rebuilt in 1712. Again burned in 1747, the present structure was built in 1748, the walls of the old Town House being utilized. Here met colonial courts and legislatures, the town and city governments, and the General Court of the Commonwealth. In front of it occurred the burning of stamp clearances and the Boston massacre. Here were the whipping-posts and stocks. Building restored in 1882. Bostonian Society collection of relics. 9.30 to 5; Saturdays, 9.30 to 12.

Old Corner Book Store — Washington and School Streets. Built 1712. as a drug shop by Thomas Crease on site of Ann Hutchinson's dwelling. A bookstore, 1828–1903, and the gathering place of Boston writers. Now Gunaris' candy shop. The Old Corner Book Store is now located at 27–29 Bromfield Street.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Collver Tours Company's groups for November 15 and December 1 Round the World have but a few vacancies. The limit of membership to ten persons each party is unique with the Collver Tours and is only one of many indications of this company's sincere endeavor to make the conditions of party travel in the Far East attractive to travelers who ordinarily scorn the idea of "joining a party."

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very large wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, thereby enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail trade only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and their prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

The certainty of obtaining fur garments that are not merely rich and beautiful in appearance but also durable is one of the pleasures you derive from shopping at A. N. Cook & Co.'s Tremont Street store.

An unusually beautiful display of plaited bosom shirts at Dyer's on Boylston Street is causing very favorable comment. The patterns and general idea are exclusively their own.

There is considerable told about the scarcity of ladies' long gloves — but it certainly can't apply to Miss Fisk's store at 144 Tremont Street — as she shows an abundnnce of all the most fashionable colors, in all styles and lengths.

Be sure and step in to Charles E. Lauriat Company's bookstore, opposite the head of Franklin Street and ask for a copy of their catalogue of new English books at reduced prices, just issued. It is free and well worth going in after.

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co., at 30-38 Summer Street, have just received a large importation of Oriental rugs. Their stock is the largest in this city and comprises the following makes: Kermanshahs, Khorassans, Savalans, Indias, Khivas, Cashmeres, Gheordes, Moussouls, Ganges, Kazaks, Daghestans, Shirvans, Carabagh and Hamidan rugs.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Boston is especially honored this week in having two shows presented here for the first time on any stage. "Sir Anthony" is given at the Park on five special matinees of Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. On Tuesday evening "The Rose of the Rancho" opens at the Majestic. E. S. Willard remains at the Colonial for his second and last week, appearing in a series of familiar plays as follows: Monday evening and Saturday matinee, "The Man Who Was," and "David Garrick"; Tuesday evening and Wednesday matinee, "The Professor's Love Story"; Wednesevening, "Colonel Newcome"; Thursday evening, "The Middleman"; Friday evening, "A Pair of Spectacles," and Saturday evening, "Tom Pinch." "The College Widow," George Ade's best-liked production, comes to the Tremont and "The Girl Raffles," shows at the Globe. The Grand Opera House presents "Wild Nell, a Child of the Regiment," while the John Craig Stock Company at the Bijou offers "The Man from Mexico." "Monsieur Beaucaire" is the bill at the Castle Square. Attractions remaining over are: Maude Adams in "Peter Pan," at the Hollis Street; Francis Wilson in "The Mountain Climber," at the Park, and "Mamselle Sallie," at the Boston. Strong vaudeville features are given at the Orpheum, Keith's and the Howard. The Columbia, Lyceum and Palace offer excellent burlesque.

Craigie House — 105 Brattle Street, Cambridge. Built about 1759, Washington's headquarters 1775-1776. Occupied by Jared Sparks, Edward Everett, Joseph E. Worcester, of dictionary fame, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Often called Longfellow house.

King's Chapel — Tremont and School streets. Built 1749, Old English architecture. First Episcopal church in Boston. Here British officers worshipped during siege. Became first Unitarian church in Boston, 1785. Open at services and other times to visitors.

Old South Meeting House — Washington and Milk streets. Built 1729 to replace wooden church which had stood on this site. Gov. John Winthrop's home, since 1669. Here many town meetings were held in massacre and tea tax times. Used by British as a riding school, 1775. Use as church abandoned 1872. Revolutionary relics. 9 to 6. Fee 25 cents.

SHOPPING NEWS

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

In winter automobiling a fur coat is a necessity. A. N. Cook & Co., Tremont Street, have made a study of securing the most suitable and durable skins for their men's and women's automobile coats.

Many an old English private library — some of them representing the gatherings of more than one generation — has contributed its quota to the collection of fine old books that Charles E. Lauriat Company are commencing to open up and show on the counters of their handsome new store opposite the head of Franklin Street. To the lover of books it is a delight simply to handle some of these specimens of the work of men who made books in an age when it was not necessary to sacrifice anything and everything to make them in a hurry.

L. P. Hollander & Co. have opened a new department for the sale of ribbons, in which they are carrying a complete stock of plaids, Roman stripes, Dresden effects, moires, peau de cygnes and faille ribbons; also many novelties in narrow ribbons for dress trimmings. They also make up bows and hair ornaments without extra charge.

The toilet parlors of Dr. Rudolph Mertin at 564 Washington Street, opposite the Adams House, are the largest in New England, employing thirty five expert operators. Dr. Mertin has recently opened a large room exclusively for gentlemen's manicure and chiropody where the patrons may smoke and make themselves generally comfortable. The hair dressing department makes a sbecialty of marcel waving and carries a first-class line of hair goods and toilet articles. Dr. Mertin's reputation as a chiropodist is well known.

Some of the most striking and desirable novelties in men's waist coats are shown by Josiah T. Dyer the Haberdasher, on Boylston Street.

Be sure and step in to Charles E. Lauriat Company's bookstore, opposite the head of Franklin Street and ask for a copy of their catalogue of new English books at reduced prices, just issued. It is free and well worth going in after.

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little but tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cozy, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

SHOPPING NEWS

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods suitable for holiday gifts. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first class.

Gentlemen who wish clothes that are absolutely right in every way either for their own or their boys' wear, should go to Macullar-Parker Company, 400 Washington Street.

"Where to spend the winter" is the question that is now troubling the travelling public. Thomas Cook & Son, 332 Washington Street, Boston suggest Bermuda or on the Nile or by making a tour around the world. Very nice suggestions of Cook.

"Buy your Xmas Gifts Early." Visit the Russian Importing Company of 355 Boylston Street and inspect their new, unique and characteristic importations. All handicraft of the Russian peasant.

Holiday gifts of any description are forwarded with safety and despatch by Donohoe's Foreign Express to all parts of the world. In case of loss proven, money will be cheerfully refunded by this enterprising firm, 657 Washington Street, Room 2.

There is no more acceptable present at Christmas than gloves from Miss Fisk's shop, 144 Tremont Street. They are in the best makes, newest colors and styles, and can be depended on for their good wearing qualities, and when the size and colors are not just what is desired, are pleasantly exchanged.

For a holiday gift, what more generally adaptable for any age or any kind of a purse than a book? The task of selection naturally suggests Charles E. Lauriat Company's famous book store and its handsome new quarters opposite the head of Franklin Street. No more complete and certainly no choicer collection of books suitable for the purposes of the holiday season was ever brought together than may be seen there now. The early shopper gets the best selection.

The display of Men's Neckwear made at Dyer's, at 34 Boylston Street is truly wonderful in its variety and novelty, and contains some of the best things shown in the city.

The certainty of obtaining fur garments that are not merely rich and beautiful in appearance but also durable is one of the pleasures you derive from shopping at A. N. Cook & Co.'s Tremont Street store.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

After a long absence Clara Bloodgood returns this week to the Park in a new play entitled "The Truth." Lena Ashwell, the notable English actress, makes her first appearance in the city at the Majestic assisted by Guy Standing, the bill being "The Shulamite." Macklyn Arbuckle brings George Ade's piece, "The County Chairman," again to this city, this time to the Globe, and a new play of the West, "Montana," comes to the Grand Opera House. The Castle Square offers "Cousin Kate" Attractions holding over are Maude Adams in "Peter Pan," at the Hollis, with a special matinee on Friday; "The College Widow," at the Tremont; Elsie Janis in "The Vanderbilt Cup," at the Colonial; "Little Johnny Jones at the Boston, and the John Craig Stock Company in "The Sign of the Four," at the Bijou. Creatore and his famous Italian Band and R. G. Knowles, the American comedian that has kept all London laughing for the past five years, are the big features of a strong vaudeville programme at the Orpheum. Mrs. Langtry comes to join the vaudeville forces at Keith's, and the Howard offers some good acts. There are excellent burlesque shows at the Lyceum, the Columbia and the Palace.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Craigie House — 105 Brattle Street, Cambridge. Built about 1759, Washington's headquarters 1775-1776. Occupied by Jared Sparks, Edward Everett, Joseph E. Worcester, of dictionary fame, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Often called Longfellow house.

King's Chapel — Tremont and School streets. Built 1749, Old English architecture. First Fpiscopal church in Boston. Here British officers worshipped during siege. Became first Unitarian church in Boston, 1785. Open at services and other times to visitors.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

As Christmas approaches the thought of what to give can be readily answered by viewing the large stock of novelties shown in the new Art Room at the remodelled Smith, Patterson store. You will find the prices as attractive as the goods.

In winter automobiling a fur coat is a necessity. A. N. Cook & Co., Tremont Strest, have made a study of securing the most suitable and durable skins for their men's and women's automobile coats.

Chandler & Barber, the hardware house, 122 to 126 Summer Street, are showing a special line of athletic goods, cutlery and skates for the holiday trade. This house invites a comparison of prices.

"Buy your Xmas Gifts Early." Visit the Russian Importing Company of 355 Boylston Street and inspect their new, unique and characteristic importations. All handicraft of the Russian peasant.

Holiday gifts of any description are forwarded with safety and despatch by Donahoe's Foreign Express to all parts of the world. In case of loss proven, money will be cheerfully refunded by this enterprising firm, 657 Washington Street, Room 2.

There is no more acceptable present at Christmas than gloves from Miss Fisk's shop, 144 Tremont Street. They are in the best makes, newest colors and styles, and can be depended on for their good wearing qualities, and when the size and colors are not just what is desired, are pleasantly exchanged.

For a holiday gift, what more generally adaptable for any age or any kind of a purse than a book? The task of selection naturally suggests Charles E. Lauriat Company's famous book store and its handsome new quarters opposite the head of Franklin Street. No more complete and certainly no choicer collection of books suitable for the purposes of the holiday season was ever brought together than may be seen there now. The early shopper gets the best selection.

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods suitable for holiday gifts. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first class.

Gentlemen who wish clothes that are absolutely right in every way, either for their own or their boys' wear, should go to Macullar-Parker Company, 400 Washington Street.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Viola Allen appears in a revival of Shakespeare's "Cymbeline," at the Hollis Street this week, and Lena Ashwell presents "Mrs. Dane's Defence" at the Majestic. Supported by a company of one hundred members, Frank Lalor and Stella Mayhew open the musical comedy, "Coming Thro' the Rye," at the Tremont. To the Boston again comes "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and the Globe offers "The Arrival of Kitty." "The Cow Puncher" arrives at the Grand Opera House. The John Craig Stock Company plays "The School for Scandal," at the Bijou, and at the Castle Square "The Rivals" is the attraction. The plays remaining over are Clara Bloodgood in "The Truth," at the Park and Elsie Janis in "The Vanderbilt Cup," at the Colonial. There are strong vaudeville features at the Orpheum, Keith's and the Howard. Attractive burlesque shows at the Columbia, Lyceum and Palace.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Craigie House — 105 Brattle Street, Cambridge. Built about 1759, Washington's headquarters 1775-1776. Occupied by Jared Sparks, Edward Everett, Joseph E. Worcester, of dictionary fame, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Often called Longfellow house.

King's Chapel — Tremont and School streets. Built 1749, Old English architecture. First Episcopal church in Boston. Here British officers worshipped during siege. Became first Unitarian church in Boston, 1785. Open at services and other times to visitors.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

One of the sights of the holiday season is the display of choice books in the new "Book Parlor," of Charles E. Lauriat Company's store opposite the head of Franklin Street. Situated as it is in the rear balcony, there is a delightful air of comparative seclusion, even in these strenuously busy weeks. The whole store is now seen at its best and seekers for books as holiday gifts would be hard to please who could find nothing to suit them here.

Blanchard, King & Co. are showing a choice selection of Christmas gifts in imported leather novelties in addition to a complete line of men's high grade furnishings.

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods suitable for holiday gifts. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first class.

Hewins & Hollis, the Outfitters, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of golf stockings, silk mufflers and traveling rugs that would make very acceptable as well as useful gifts.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for Christmas gifts, not only in diamonds, jewelry and sterling silver, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carving.

You will not need any suggestions as to what to buy for Christmas if you look over the immense stock of cameras, chafing dishes, coffee percolators, etc., at the Chandler & Barber Hardware House, 122 to 126 Summer Street.

There is no more acceptable present at Christmas than gloves from Miss Fisk's shop, 144 Tremont Street. They are in the best makes, newest colors and styles, and can be depended on for their good wearing qualities, and when the size and colors are not just what is desired, are pleasantly exchanged.

In winter automobiling a fur coat is a necessity. A. N. Cook & Co. Tremont Strest, have made a study of securing the most suitable and durable skins for their men's and women's automobile coats.

Motor cars for Christmas shopping and the theatre can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

"Buy your Xmas Gifts Early." Visit the Russian Importing Company of 355 Boylston Street and inspect their new, unique and characteristic importations. All handicraft of the Russian peasant.

Rathskeller

THE NEW AMERICAN

ONLY ONE
Real Rathskeller in Boston. It's at the American House.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

George Cohan and other Cohans open an engagement of a fortnight at the Colonial this week in their new musical play, "George Washington, Jr." At the Majestic, Bertha Kalich appears in the prose tragedy of Yiddish life entitled "The Kreutzer Sonata." Hanlon's "Fatasma" comes to the Globe, and "The Confessions of a Wife" appears at the Grand Opera House. The John Craig Stock Company presents the Christmas extravaganza of "Jack and Jill & Co." at the Bijou, and the Castle Square offers "Sherlock Holmes," William Gillette's famous play. Attractions remaining over are: Viola Allen in "Cymbeline," at the Hollis; Clara Bloodgood in "The Truth," at the Park; Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," at the Boston, and "Coming Thro' the Rye," at the Tremont. The Orpheum, Keith's and the Howard present strong vaudeville. At the Columbia, the Lyceum and the Palace high-class burlesque is offered.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Craigie House — 105 Brattle Street, Cambridge. Built about 1759, Washington's headquarters 1775-1776. Occupied by Jared Sparks, Edward Everett, Joseph E. Worcester, of dictionary fame, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Often called Longfellow house.

King's Chapel — Tremont and School streets. Built 1749, Old English architecture. First Episcopal church in Boston. Here British officers worshipped during siege. Became first Unitarian church in Boston, 1785. Open at services and other times to visitors.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The showing of Gloves for Christmas gifts at Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street is very complete, ranging from $1.50 a pair upwards.

For that Tired Feeling which accompanies Christmas shopping, get a glass of Coca-Cola at the nearest soda fountain.

One of the sights of the holiday season is the display of choice books in the new "Book Parlor," of Charles E. Lauriat Company's store opposite the head of Franklin Street. Situated as it is in the rear balcony, there is a delightful air of comparative seclusion, even in these strenuously busy weeks. The whole store is now seen at its best and seekers for books as holiday gifts would be hard to please who could find nothing to suit them here.

Blanchard, King & Co. are showing a choice selection of Christmas gifts in imported leather novelties in addition to a complete line of men's high grade furnishings.

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods suitable for holiday gifts. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first class.

Hewins & Hollis, the Outfitters, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of golf stockings, silk mufflers and traveling rugs that would make very acceptable as well as useful gifts.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for Christmas gifts, not only in diamonds, jewelry and sterling silver, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carving.

You will not need any suggestions as to what to buy for Christmas if you look over the immense stock of cameras, chafing dishes, coffee percolators etc., at the Chandler & Barber Hardware House, 122 to 126 Summer Street.

In winter automobiling a fur coat is a necessity. A. N. Cook & Co., Tremont Strest, have made a study of securing the most suitable and durable skins for their men's and women's automobile coats.

Motor cars for Christmas shopping and the theatre can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
RATHSKELLER FOOD

THINGS WORTH SEEING

E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe come to the Boston this week or a fortnight's engagement, and on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings present "John the Baptist;" Tuesday evening and Saturday matinee, "Jeanne D'Arc;" Wednesday matinee, "Romeo and Juliet;" Thursday evening, "The Sunken Bell;" and Saturday evening, "Hamlet." John Drew appears at the Hollis Street in "His House in Order," and Kyrle Bellew is seen at the Park in "Brigadier Gerard." The Globe offers Ernest Hogan, with a colored company, in a new version of "Rufus Rastus," and the Grand Opera House gives "The Volunteer Organist." Janice Meredith is the attraction at the Castle Square. George M. Cohan in "George Washington, Jr." remains at the Colonial. Other countinuances are: Bertha Kalich in "The Kreutzer Sonata," at the Majestic, "Coming Thro' The Rye," at the Tremont, and the John Craig Company in "Jack and Jill & Co.," at the Bijou. There are fine vaudeville offerings at the Orpheum, Keith's and the Howard. The Columbia, Lyceum and Palace present burlesque of merit.

Old State House—Washington Street, head of State Street. Here the first Town House was built, 1657, in the earliest market-place of Boston. Burned in 1711, it was rebuilt in 1712. Again burned in 1747, the present structure was built in 1748, the walls of the old Town House being utilized. Here met colonial courts and legislatures, the town and city governments, and the General Court of the Commonwealth. In front of it occurred the burning of stamp clearances and the Boston massacre. Here were the whipping-posts and stocks. Building restored in 1882. Bostonian Society collection of relics. 9.30 to 5; Saturdays, 9.30 to 12.

Old Corner Book Store—Washington and School Streets. Built 1712, as a drug shop by Thomas Crease on site of Ann Hutchinson's dwelling. A bookstore, 1828-1903, and the gathering place of Boston writers. Now Gunaris' candy shop. The Old Corner Book Store is now located at 27-29 Bromfield Street.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

When in need of any kind of a book, you will be sure to find it at the Old Corner Bookstore, 27-29 Bromfield Street. They have many books not to be found elsewhere.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. are offering a new line of choice antique Oriental rugs. The patrons of this house are cordially invited to pass judgment of their selection.

Ladies' twelve button length gloves are reduced to $2.98 at Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street.

In winter automobiling a fur coat is a necessity. A. N. Cook & Co., Tremont Street, have made a study of securing the most suitable and durable skins for their men's and women's automobile coats.

The toilet parlors of Dr. Rudolph Mertin at 564 Washington Street, opposite the Adams House, are the largest in New England, employing thirty-five expert operators. Dr. Mertin has recently opened a large room exclusively for gentlemen's manicure and chiropody where the patrons may smoke and make themselves generally comfortable. The hair dressing department makes a specialty of marcel waving and carries a first-class line of hair goods and toilet articles. Dr. Mertin's reputation as a chiropodist is well known.

Some of the most striking and desirable novelties in men's waistcoats are shown by Josiah T. Dyer the Haberdasher, on Boylston Street.

Thos. Cook & Son, 332 Washington Street, near the Old South Church, is a convenient place to get your letter of credit or circular notes cashed and also to obtain information as to ocean passages and the best place to spend the winter.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit made to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very large wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, thereby enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail trade only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and their prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

Macullar Parker Company are having their annual mark down sale of winter clothing in the Men's and Boys' departments as well as in Furnishing Goods.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, announce a great reduction sale on account of their removal to 429 Boylston Street, and as they are determined to decrease their stock to a minimum they will therefore sell regardless of cost.

We congratulate the ladies that their interests are so well considered in the line of tailored and lingerie waists, stiff embroidered collars and jabots at Miss Fisk's attractive shop, 144 Tremont Street. Her advanced productions for those about taking a trip are most attractive.

Thos. Cook & Son, 332 Washington Street, near the Old South Church, is a convenient place to get your letter of credit or circular notes cashed and also to obtain information as to ocean passages and the best place to spend the winter.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit made to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very large wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, thereby enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail trade only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and their prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

Macullar Parker Company are having their annual mark down sale of winter clothing in the Men's and Boys' departments as well as in Furnishing Goods.

Motor cars for shopping, sight-seeing, the theatre and suburban resorts can be had at any time by telephoning Tremont 2, The Boston Motor Company, 43 Columbus Avenue.

When in need of any kind of a book, you will be sure to find it at the Old Corner Bookstore, 27-29 Bromfield Street. They have many books not to be found elsewhere.

Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. are offering a new line of choice antique Oriental rugs. The patrons of this house are cordially invited to pass judgment of their selection.

Josiah T. Dyer, the haberdasher on Boylston Street, is making radical reductions in the prices of high-class men's wear previous to the alterations which are to be made in his store.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

H. B. Irving, supported by Dorothea Baird and a London Co. continues at the Colonial this week and plays the following repertoire: Monday and Friday nights and Wednesday matinee, "Lyons Mail;" Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, "The Bells;" Wednesday night, "King Charles I," and Saturday matinee, "Mauricette," preceded by "Markheim." After two years' absence Forbes Robertson acts for the first time here at the Hollis Street Shaw's play, "Ceasar and Cleopatra." To the Boston comes "Ben Hur," the great spectacular show that has delighted so many Bostonians during previous seasons, and the Globe presents Grace Cameron in "Little Dollie Dimples." "Leah Kleschna," is the attraction at the Castle Square, and John Craig's Stock Company offers "A Man with a Past," at the Bijou. The play at the Grand Opera House is "The Phantom Detective." The continuances are: Lew Dockstader and his Minstrels at the Tremont, James T. Powers in "The Blue Moon," at the Majestic, and Lulu Glaser in "The Aero Club," at the Park. The Orpheum has Thompson's Elephants, Herman the Great, Jack Lorimer, Scotch Comedian and the Hungarian Boys' Band as its headliners in one of the highest priced vaudeville bills ever presented in Boston. Keith's and the Howard contribute excellent vaudeville entertainment and at the Lyceum, Columbia and Palace fine burlesque shows.

Old South Meeting House—Washington and Milk streets. Built 1729 to replace wooden church which had stood on this site. Gov. John Winthrop's home, since 1669. Here many town meetings were held in massacre and tea tax times. Used by British as a riding school, 1775. Use as church abandoned 1872. Revolutionary relics. 9 to 6. Fee 25 cents.

The Boston Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost architectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects were McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and D. C. French. The mural paintings by Puvis de Chavannes, Edwin A. Abbey and John S. Sargent attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, which contains 900,000 volumes.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

SHOPPING NEWS

Among the "January Bargains" of more than ordinary interest are those to be picked up at Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s bookstore, 385 Washington Street, opp. Franklin Street. In clearing up after a phenomenal holiday business, many odd lots, sets and single books, have turned up that are to be sold out before the annual inventory next month. It will pay to step in and look at these.

The certainty of obtaining fur garments that are not merely rich and beautiful in appearance but also durable is one of the pleasures you derive from shopping at A. N. Cook & Co.'s Tremont Street store.

Josiah T. Dyer, the haberdasher on Boylston Street, is making radical reductions in the prices of high-class men's wear previous to the alterations which are to be made in his store.

The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, announce a great reduction sale on account of their removal to 429 Boylston Street, and as they are determined to decrease their stock to a minimum they will therefore sell regardless of cost.

We congratulate the ladies that their interests are so well considered in the line of tailored and lingerie waists, stiff embroidered collars and jabots at Miss Fisk's attractive shop, 144 Tremont Street. Her advanced productions for those about taking a trip are most attractive.

Thos. Cook & Son, 332 Washington Street, near the Old South Church, is a convenient place to get your letter of credit or circular notes cashed and also to obtain information as to ocean passages and the best place to spend the winter.

Beyond dispute the florist par excellence of Boston is Thomas F. Galvin. We were well repaid a visit made to his Tremont Street and Back Bay stores by a sight of a great display of rare orchids and various hued chrysanthemums, American beauty roses, English and Russian violets. The business done is remarkable.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, do a very large wholesale business in diamonds and precious stones as well as retail, thereby enabling them to buy in a much more advantageous way than for retail trade only. They carry one of the most attractive stocks in the trade, and their prices cannot be equalled for the same quality of goods.

Macullar Parker Company are having their annual mark down sale of winter clothing in the Men's and Boys' departments as well as in Furnishing Goods.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Ethel Barrymore re-appears in this city at the Colonial this week in "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire," and Mrs. Fiske comes to the Majestic with "The New York Idea." May Irwin presents her new play, "Mrs. Wilson-Andrews," at the Park, and the annual musical show of the Knights of Columbus is the attraction at the Tremont. Forbes Robertson and Gertrude Elliott devote their second and last week to repertoire as follows: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and Saturday matinee, "Hamlet;" Friday night, "The Merchant of Venice;" Wednesday matinee and Saturday night, "Mice and Men." The Globe offers "His Last Dollar," and the Grand Opera House presents "The Curse of Drink." That popular Irish play, "The Shaugraun," is the amusement at the Castle Square, while "A Poor Relation," claims the attention of the John Craig Stock Company at the Bijou. The only attraction remaining over is "Ben Hur," at the Boston. There are fine vaudeville shows at the Orpheum, Keith's and the Howard. Burlesque of high order is offered at the Columbia, the Lyceum and the Palace.

Old South Meeting House—Washington and Milk streets. Built 1729 to replace wooden church which had stood on this site. Gov. John Winthrop's home, since 1669. Here many town meetings were held in massacre and tea tax times. Used by British as a riding school, 1775. Use as church abandoned 1872. Revolutionary relics. 9 to 6. Fee 25 cents.

The Boston Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost architectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects were McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and D. C. French. The mural paintings by Puvis de Chavannes, Edwin A. Abbey and John S. Sargent attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, which contains 900,000 volumes.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.
